One Book Township The Body of Christopher Creed Meet the Author

On May 12th, Carol Plum-Ucci a South Jersey native and award winning author met with 60 students and discussed her book The Body of Christopher Creed.

Plum-Ucci described the many childhood experiences that led her to become an author. She also discussed the characters' motivations and the many South Jersey locals used in the book.

Students prepared for the discussion by reading the book and attending discussions of the book with Ms Gaughan and book club members in the IMC after school or during lunch periods. Additionally, students who could not attend participated in a book discussion blog posted by Ms Gaughan.

The cost of the author visit was sponsored by a grant from the Washington Township Educational Foundation and WTHS.
