

IMC Collection of eBooks

The WTHS IMC has been expanding their collection of resources in a variety of formats by adding more eBooks to their collection. An eBook is a digital or electronic version of a conventional printed book. They are full-text, searchable and often contain an electronic table of contents and index for ease of navigation.

EBooks are either accessible by multiple users simultaneously or they are limited to and must be downloaded by an individual user. Gale Virtual Reference Library, History Reference Center and Cambridge Collections Online all contain eBooks that allow an unlimited number of users. Follett eBooks and eBooks downloaded through OverDrive are limited to one use at a time.

The eBooks in the IMC's collection are accessible from either the online catalog Web Collection Plus or through a variety of databases where they are stored on the topic list of databases.

Web Collection Plus

When searching Web Collection Plus eBooks can be identified by the  symbol that will accompany the call number and title information on the list of results. After clicking into the title of an eBook, most will contain a link for electronic access to the full-text of the book.

Searching eBooks by Database

Gale Virtual Reference Library, History Reference Center and Cambridge Collections Online all contain eBooks that allow an unlimited number of users and can be accessed through links on the IMC Homepage Topic List of Databases. Using the database link allows users to conduct a keyword search of all titles in each database or to browse for individual titles by subject.

Gale Virtual Reference Library

Gale eBooks are stored in a database titled Gale Virtual Reference. All of these books can be used by multiple users at all times and can be accessed from school or home. (Home Access Password: minutemen)

To Browse by Subject:

- Click the + next to the subject for a list of available titles
- Click on the title of a book to display a description of the book or series with links to the various sections of the book, including the Table of Contents and Index.
- Clicking on these links will allow you to browse through the book, much like you would a print copy.

Subject Category: Science
LC Subject(s): Renewable energy sources.
Brief Description: This three-volume set introduces students to issues surrounding both current energy sources and alternative energy options. While there is significant discussion of the non-renewable resources now used to meet the majority of the world's energy needs (oil, coal, and natural gas), the primary focus of the set is on newer options to meet the ever-growing demand. These options include wind and solar energy, fuel cells, hydropower, geothermal power, and biomass energy.
